

A Name Twice Made Famous, Now a Shining Mark for Imitators.

The name "Chase," twice made famous, is a shining mark for the unscrupulous to pounce upon the public their worthless preparations. These birds of prey, by using the name Chase, expect the public to be fooled into believing they are the medicines of Dr. A. W. Chase, who first became noted as the author of the world famous Dr. Chase's Receipt Book and family physician, and whose fame is now doubly increased by the wonderful success of his Nerve Pills, with Nerve, Brain and Blood troubles. They play upon the name Chase, but dare not use the initials "A. W."

They imitate, but dare not counterfeit the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, which identifies the Nerve Pills now recognized as infallible for building up pale, weak, thin-blooded, nerve exhausted nerves.

Who are nerve-tired and brain-weary. Who are easily exhausted. Who are wakeful—cannot sleep. Who have nervous headache. They remove the cause of blood impurities, securing refreshing sleep and impart strength.

They build up people who find their strength and vigor waning. They settle irritated nerves, replace languor and lassitude with energy and animation. Cure Nervous Dyspepsia.

CAUTION.—The protection to the public in securing the genuine and original Dr. A. W. Chase preparation is in seeing the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., is on each box. These and these only are the genuine. Do not be satisfied with anything bearing the name "Chase" without the initials A. W., etc. of Druggists or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HE'S A COOL ONE

BENDS ALL TO HIS WILL

Oregon's Much Sought For Escaped Convict Proves That Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction.

In a Penny Dreadful Such a Character Would Be Declared to Be Overdrawn.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—Harry Tracey, the Oregon convict, has again eluded his pursuers after a display of great daring. His last act was to impress a farm hand into debarking on the sound in a rowboat late Saturday and at noon Sunday Sheriff Cuddehe chartered the tug Sea Lion and with a posse started in pursuit.

According to information received at the sheriff's office here Sunday, Tracey slept in a graveyard on the outskirts of Seattle after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point in the water front three miles north of Seattle, his original point of landing. There he compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point, twelve miles across and down the sound from Seattle. He dismissed the boy, declaring that the latter would be killed by Tracey's pal if he told of the trip. They landed near the home of Rancher Johnson and Tracey watched the house for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill everyone on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added:

"But after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

The family prepared breakfast for Tracey and put one plate on a table against the wall.

"This is not right," declared the convict. "Put the table in the middle of the room and all sit down with me," which was done.

Tracey then read Friday evening's papers and after learning how Mrs. VanHorn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping everyone in that house constantly under his eye. "My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers," he said.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, cooked for him, put on Johnson's suit of Sunday black and had the food, clothing and blankets made into bundles. At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle yesterday morning. Sheriff Cuddehe was summoned from Bothell and at 10:30, with several men, started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado and the farm hand. However, as Tracey had fifteen hours' start it is believed he will make good his escape. The supposition is that he will row all night, probably kill Anderson, sink the boat and disappear into the wild forests of northern Washington, where he may live many days on his supply of food.

DETERMINED MOVE

President of Venezuela Personally Takes the Field.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, July 7.—News has reached here from an official source in Caracas that President Castro will leave the capital of Venezuela today for Valencia, in the state Carabobo, to take command of the 4,500 government troops concentrated there who are to oppose the main army of the revolutionists which, under the command of Luciano Mendoza and General Solano, is marching toward Valencia from Barquisimeto. The revolutionists are estimated to number more than 3,000 men. Barquisimeto was captured by them last week.

Preparatory to his departing from the capital, President Castro has published a proclamation to the nation in which he says he recognizes the fact that anarchy exists in Venezuela and promises to re-establish peace shortly. During the absence of the president from Caracas, General Vicente Gomez, first vice president, will act in his stead.

Military Stores Burned.

Lorenzo Marques, Portuguese East Africa, July 7.—The fire which began here July 3 and which by the following day had destroyed British military stores valued at over £500,000, shows little sign of abating and is likely to burn for some day to come. The fire brigade is powerless to control the flames, which, towering to a great height, completely illuminate the bay

HE FEARS TROUBLE

Aguinaldo's Freedom Is Not Bringing Much Joy With It.

Manila, July 7.—As a result of the proclamation amnesty July 4, the guard of American soldiers has been withdrawn from the house where Aguinaldo lived in Manila and Lieutenant Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino Sunday to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino revolution. Lieutenant William E. McKinlay of the Ninth cavalry acted as interpreter. Aguinaldo was told that he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and Gen. Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked General Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits. General Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request, and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call upon Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night, as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight.

The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies. Luna was a Filipino leader whom Aguinaldo caused to be killed in 1899.

FLOOD DAMAGE

The Loss to Western New York Will Be Hundreds of Thousands.

Buffalo, July 7.—A terrific rain and windstorm swept over western New York at an early hour Sunday. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses and barns and livestock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires are down and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties is difficult to establish. This city was not in the path of the storm.

A dispatch from Arcade says the flood at that place claimed one victim and did damage to the extent of $100,000. Minnie Loper, who kept a bakery on the bank of the creek, was drowned early in the day. The downpour and the cloudburst above the village turned the creek into a torrent. The water rose very rapidly and was several feet deep on the lowlands before anyone realized the danger. Miss Loper's bakery was swept out into the stream, but it had not gone far before it fell apart. Miss Loper's body was recovered. There were many narrow escapes.

NO END IN SIGHT

Third Month of Great Strike Begun and Lines Are Tightly Drawn.

MITCHELL IN NEW YORK

It Is Said the Miners' Chief Is Confering With Leaders of the American Federation of Labor.

Help For the Striking Miners May Be Tendered By Some Labor Organizations.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 7.—President Mitchell of the miners' union left here at noon Sunday for New York. He slipped out of town so unexpectedly and so quietly that only two or three persons around strike headquarters knew of his departure. As he did not announce he was going to New York, there is an element of mystery about his journey, but it is learned on trustworthy authority that he went to the metropolis for the purpose of meeting leaders of other labor organizations. The purpose of the meeting is not definitely known here, but it is understood to have a direct bearing on the question of labor organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor assisting the miners' union financially. It is known that some of these organizations have expressed their willingness to help the mine workers in this way. Mr. Mitchell while in New York may meet the officials of railroad unions or other organizations that can assist his people by other than financial means.

Today ushers in the third month of the great strike. There have been many rumors and opinions published that certain coal companies would within a few days attempt to start up one or more collieries. The officials of the big companies who are willing to talk deny all knowledge of any attempt of their respective companies to start work. They say, however, that the number of men applying for work is growing larger each week. Many of them are given employment and the names of the others are placed on the waiting list. The number of miners among the applicants who are applying for work is very small, and so long as the miners themselves refrain from going to the collieries, no coal can be mined. Of the 147,000 men and boys employed about the mines, approximately 36,000 are miners. Under the laws of the state no company can employ a man to cut coal unless he has a miner's certificate showing that he has had two years' experience in the anthracite mines. These certificates are awarded by examining boards composed of miners appointed by the county courts. Therefore if 100,000 men and boys were willing to return they could not lawfully operate collieries unless the striking miners also went to work.

Inquiry was made yesterday of strikers' officials as to how long they expected the strike to last, and of mining superintendents as to whether the price of coal will go up or down during the coming fall. The labor leaders were unanimous in the belief that the strike will still be on Sept. 1 if the operators make no concessions. The company officials who were seen were of the opinion that the price of coal during the remainder of this year will not go below present figures and may go higher.

BIG STRIKE ORDER

Chicago Freight Handlers Will Carry Teamsters With Them.

Chicago, July 7.—The freight handlers, numbering nearly 9,000 men, employed in the different railway warehouses and depots in Chicago, at a special meeting last night, decided to go on strike within forty-eight hours to enforce their demand for higher wages. Several days ago the freight handlers' union submitted a proposition to the general managers of the railways asking for an increase in the scale of wages. The request was refused. The railroad officials, however, offered to confer with committees from their own men in an effort to effect a compromise, but they refused to recognize the officers of the union. This was unsatisfactory to the men, as recognition of the union was one of the principal demands made in the proposition submitted to the railroads. Chairman F. W. Job of the state board of arbitration has been urging his best efforts to prevent a strike, but the men claimed they were tired waiting for the railroads to take some action, and the decision at last night's meeting was to involve the teamsters, as the latter have decided that they will not deliver freight to the railroads if it is to be handled by non-union men.

Tramps Surprised.

Chicago, July 7.—A freight wreck on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway at Ninetieth street yesterday resulted in the injury of seven men who were beating their way to Chicago. Eight cars filled with tramps were telescoped and shouts of pain came from men buried in the wreckage. Many of them were not severely injured, and as soon as they gained their liberty they ran away.

Robert Wilson of Detroit was drowned in the St. Joseph river in the morning while trying to swim. Sunday afternoon Ward Kiser, aged seventeen, of South Bend, Ind., was seized with heart failure while bathing in Lake Michigan and drowned before help could reach him. Rudolph Steffek, his wife and his sister, Miss Steffek, all of Chicago, drowned here Saturday evening in the St. Joseph river. They went in bathing and, being unacquainted with the beach and the river current, were carried under by the rapid stream. A fourth member of the party, John Thorpe, who had gone down for the third time, caught a passing timber and was saved.

SINGULAR MYSTERY

Death of This Couple Seems Hard to Account For.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 7.—While their son and daughter and several young friends were singing and dancing in the parlor Saturday night, Chas. J. McCormick, a Great Northern conductor, and his wife were dying in a bathroom on the same floor. Their bodies were found some hours later by their young son, who went to call them.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick had been out driving in the evening and both had appeared to be in excellent health and spirits. Upon returning home they informed their son and daughter, who were entertaining several friends in the parlor, that they were going to take a bath. Later the daughter was asked to bring them some clothing, and this was the last seen or heard of them alive. The party in the parlor made merry until a late hour, and when the guests had left Hilby, the son, aged 13, went to call his parents, supposing they had fallen asleep. He could get no response, and becoming alarmed, sought for assistance. When the door to the bathroom was finally opened Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were found to be dead. Their bodies were in the bathtub and their clothing scattered about the room. Nearby stood a partly emptied bottle of beer and fragments of a lunch. A physician who was called thought that they had been dead two hours. No satisfactory explanation of the tragedy could be given, though the evidence points to poisoning. An inquest will be held. Mr. McCormick was one of the oldest conductors on the Great Northern. He was known as President Hill's favorite conductor, and was always selected to take charge of the president's private car.

Miners' Race Riot.

Connellsville, Pa., July 7.—A race riot between Slavs and Polish miners and coke workers occurred Saturday night at the Paul mines of the Rainey company near Vanderbilt, three miles from here. Mike Zovelicich, a Slav, was killed instantly by three revolver wounds, and Victor Hennel, a Slav, who was shot through the body, will not live. Thirty Slavs, men and women, were all more or less injured in the hand-to-hand fight that took place. The participants were covered with blood after the fracas, but their injuries, while serious, will not prove fatal. Thirty arrests were made yesterday. A big christening was held at the home of Frank Letkey, a Slavish boarding boss. Beer and other drinks flowed freely and at 11 o'clock the trouble started with the result stated above.

WAS IT FOUL PLAY?

Body of a Man Found At Goshen Showing Obvious Marks of Violence.

WAS LAST SEEN FRIDAY

His Body Was Discovered In a Mill Race Sunday, the Face Badly Crushed and Bruised.

His Parents Believe Murder Was Done and the Body Thrown In the Water.

Goshen, Ind., July 7.—Crushed and bruised about the face, the body of Frank Ganger, the 16-year-old son of Emanuel Ganger, a prosperous and well-known farmer living near this city, was found floating in the mill race by a crowd of boys who had gone swimming Sunday afternoon. The face was badly crushed, apparently from heavy blows by a blunt instrument. The last time Ganger was seen alive was Friday afternoon, when he was with a crowd of young persons celebrating the Fourth of July.

He was later seen on the banks of the canal in company with a young woman who has since been missing. Young Ganger's parents believe he was murdered and the body thrown into the water. When the body was examined no money or jewelry was found and his parents and friends said that he had a considerable sum of money and some valuable jewelry when he came to the city last Friday. He rode a new bicycle and with Ganger's disappearance the wheel has been missing. He was a young man of good habits and his mysterious death puzzles the officers.

INDIANA SOCIALISTS

State Ticket Nominated at Terre Haute Convention.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 7.—The Socialists' state convention had seventy-one delegates. Among them was one woman, Miss Martha Biegler of Indianapolis. A state organization was effected by the election of William Hamilton, chairman; James O'Neal, Terre Haute, secretary; S. M. Reynolds, Terre Haute, treasurer. William Mahoney of Indianapolis was chairman of the convention. The following is the state ticket nominated:

Secretary of state, Ed H. Myer, Evansville; auditor, James Hutchinson, Staunton; treasurer, Samuel D. Straw, Elkhart; attorney general, William W. McGregor, Clay City; statistician, George Sturm, Columbus; geologist, John Adams, Brazil; superintendent of public instruction, Miss Martha Biegler, Indianapolis; judges appellate court, William Raugh, Fort Wayne; T. J. Macomber, Anderson; David Young, Aurora; William J. Crake, Marion; H. R. Kepler, Richmond. No nomination was made for clerk of the supreme court or judge of the same court for the Fifth district. It was decided to make Terre Haute the state headquarters.

It Was Loaded.

Elwood, Ind., July 7.—George W. Cassidy, a well-known plate glass worker is dead as a result of a bullet wound from a 38-caliber revolver in the hands of his wife, received Friday night. Cassidy was starting up town to join the crowd celebrating the Fourth. He asked his wife to bring him a revolver from the house. In handing the weapon to him the trigger caught on a finger ring and was discharged, the bullet striking Cassidy in the abdomen and passing out of the back, penetrating the spinal column. Neither knew that the weapon was loaded. The widow is prostrated with grief over the accident.

Want to Make It Permanent.

Warsaw, Ind., July 7.—The closing exercises of the first National Young People's Bible conference at Winona Sunday were of a devotional character. The most impressive service was the hillside meeting, conducted by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, the conference director, and Rev. Arthur J. Smith of New York. Dr. B. A. Gobin, president of DePaul university, delivered the sermon. Dr. Chapman delivered a strong address at the Auditorium last night. A resolution was adopted urging that the conference be made a permanent annual affair.

Girl's Terrible Death.

Kokomo, Ind., July 7.—Mona, the 17-year-old daughter of Hiram Fritz, went to a woods near her home and, saturating her clothing with coal oil, set them on fire. The screams which she could not suppress brought her girl companions to her rescue, but they were too late to save her, and she died a few hours later in dreadful agony.

Bored the Lock.

Muncie, Ind., July 7.—Thieves entered the store of C. S. Westcott & Son and stole $500 worth of jewelry and money. The robbery was committed at an early hour by boring out the lock in the front door.

Princeton, Ind., July 7.—Ed Lyons, recently escaped from the Washington, Ind., jail with William Edison and others, was captured here Saturday night and placed in the Gibson county jail.

SOME NEW MAN

Will Have to Be Picked By the Democrats Says W. H. Hawkins.

Indianapolis, July 7.—W. H. Hawkins, ex-secretary of the Democratic state committee, predicts that some new man will have to be nominated by the Democrats in 1904 for president. He admits that David B. Hill is well qualified, but he declares that Hill will not do for a candidate because he would not be satisfactory to a large element of the party. Hawkins did not say anything regarding Bryan, but it is understood that he is not advocating a third nomination for the Nebraskan. He declared in favor of Allan O. Parker of New York, who he says has always been with his party, and immediately after the defeat of the party in '96 turned around and carried it by a large majority for chief justice. Hawkins' remarks do not indicate that a boom is being hatched in Indiana for Parker, although John W. Kern and others prominent in party councils have spoken out in favor of Parker, but they are significant so far as they indicate a feeling that is deep among the men who were earnest and enthusiastic followers of Bryan. These men realize that Bryan will not be considered in Indiana for a third term nomination, but at the same time they are determined that the men who left the party in '96 and 1900 shall not dictate in favor of Hill or anyone else who did not stay in the party wagon. There is liable to be a pretty scrap among the Democrats over the control of the delegation to the next national convention—in fact all signs now point that way.

It is true, although it is not known generally, that Senator Charles W. Fairbanks is one of the most extensive farmers in Indiana. It is also said that in spite of his long practice as an attorney and his official service at Washington, he is a practical farmer. He is enjoying a vacation at his farm in Piatt county, Illinois. It is said he bought an immense tract of land there a number of years ago when it could be had cheap. It has been improved by him until it is one of the most valuable farms in the state of Illinois. Last year it is reported that he made one sale of 55,000 bushels of corn when the price was soaring high. He keeps the farm well stocked and is in close touch at all times with the business. He left here Fourth of July morning for Mansfield, Ill., which is near his farm. He hoped to be there in time to deliver an address and to take part in the celebration of the Fourth. The senior senator is also farming on an extensive scale in Indiana, as about a year ago he purchased nearly 1,500 acres in one tract in New-town county.

Attorneys are gathering here from all parts of Indiana for the annual meeting of the State Bar association tomorrow and Wednesday. It is evident there will be a large attendance. The meeting will be held in the state senate chambers and will be called to order at 10 o'clock in the morning by Theodore P. Davis, president, who will deliver an address on "Upholding the Honor of the Profession." The principal address of the day will be by Burton Smith of Atlanta, Ga., whose subject is: "Why Seek Ye the Living Amongst the Dead." The reading of the committee reports will occupy the afternoon. Wednesday morning Judge William L. Penfield of Auburn, one of the prominent figures in the Beveridge-Bailey-Penfield episode at Washington last week, will deliver an address on "The Lawyers' Introduction and Relation to the Court."

Secretary W. B. Wilson of the United Mine Workers left Indianapolis last night for Clarksburg and Fairmount, W. Va., the heart of the big coal strike. A meeting will be held at Clarksburg tonight and Fairmount tomorrow night, at which Wilson and "Mother" Jones will be the principal speakers.

The Dinner Pail

Of the American working man is generally well filled. In some cases it is too well filled. It contains too many kinds of food, and very often the food is of the wrong kind—hard to digest and containing little nutriment. As a consequence many a working man develops some form of stomach trouble which interferes with his health and reduces his working capacity.

Where there is indigestion or any other indication of disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will almost invariably produce a perfect and permanent cure.

Mr. Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub Station, C. Columbus, O., Box 102, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had grown up to die, thinking that I could not be cured. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks, I was weighed, and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I am as stout and healthy to-day. I think, as I ever was."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

No other medicine can show a record of cures of stomach ills equal to the Bitters. This is the best evidence of its value. It will cure Heartburn, Belching, Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Liver and Kidney Troubles. BE SURE TO TRY IT.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and family are now at their own home at Oyster Bay where they will remain during the hot summer months.

It has been suggested that the version of the average democrat to water is the cause of his violent criticism of the "water cure" as applied to some obstreperous Filipinos.

ALL day the farmers have been bringing wheat to the Seymour market. Several thousand bushels were sold and unloaded here during the day. The wheat market in Seymour is as good as any place in Southern Indiana.

AGUINALDO is reluctant about leaving his prison quarters not withstanding the amnesty proclamation. He realizes that his record was bad even among his own people and is inclined to think that it will not be safe for him to go about alone.

THE year before the Dingley law was passed customs collections were $102,000,000. Last year they reached $105,000,000. It will take the difference to offset the removal of war taxes. No country ever had a more thoroughly successful tariff than the United States is blessed with at this time.—Globe-Democrat.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel comes back at Editor Bryan in a column and a half editorial. That is more space than the Commoner used to rebuke the Sentinel. Editor Bryan and Editor Morris were friends once but they are jabbing each other good and hard now with their editorial goose quills. Each one is trying to tell the other of his political mistakes and they have made so many that much editorial space is necessarily used. When Morris joined the reorganizers he committed an unpardonable political sin according to Bryan's way of thinking.

Melons Ripening.

Some of the growers of nutmeg melons in this county say they will have a few baskets of the earliest varieties to put on the market this week. The nutmeg crop is very promising this year and if nothing yet happens to prevent them from ripening nicely, they will bring quite a nice sum of money into this county.

It is said that the mormon preachers who came into town a few days ago and held a few street meetings have decided to move on. And it is just as well for Seymour is in no special need of mormon missionaries.

Mrs Victor Pettig has returned from a visit with Shelbyville relatives and two nieces Glenn and Wilma Pettig returned with her to visit for a few days here. Misses Bernice Pettig and Maggie Belle Coughlin are spending the day with them.

The county council met in special session today to consider the matter of making some special appropriation to meet some claims against the county.

Article Appreciated.

Tip Blish was this morning the proud recipient of a check for fifty dollars from the publishers of the New York Flour Trade News for an article he had furnished for that journal on his trip around the world. The article was illustrated by half-tone cuts made from photograph also furnished by Mr. Blish. This article will be re-published in the REPUBLICAN within a few days.

Wheat Receipts.

The Blish Milling Co. received 5100 bushels of wheat by wagons on Saturday. The condition lacked a good deal of being satisfactory, but it was taken in with the hope that later deliveries would be nearer up to the mark. The market continues steady and 72 cents is still paid.

An Advertising Tax.

In the Sacramento Valley, in California, there is collected a tax of two cents on the hundred dollars to create a fund for the advertising of the valley in the newspapers of the East and elsewhere. This is an extraordinary recognition of the importance of newspaper advertising.

He was thrown into the air and when he fell the fender struck his head, cutting a large gash and fracturing the skull. He is at St. Joseph's hospital.

TRIBUTE TO LABOR

Eloquent Speech of Congressman Brick of Indiana.

WORKERS OF FACTORY AND FARM

Form the Basis of the Structure of American Prosperity—Maintenance of the American Standard of Wages and Living Should Be the First Concern of the American Legislator.

One of the most notable contributions to the recent debate on the Chinese Exclusion bill in the house of representatives was the speech of Representative A. L. Brick, one of the most able and eloquent members of the Indiana delegation. In the course of his speech he took occasion to pay a notable tribute to the American working man. In part Mr. Brick said:

I vote for and support this bill because I believe it will effectually conserve the honor and dignity of the American worker from all competition with foreign or insular Chinese coolies labor, because I believe it fully meets the new and delicate condition of affairs in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines. It prevents Chinese immigration of labor into any of these possessions of ours. It restricts all Chinese migration from one insular possession to the other. But more than this, it says, in emphatic terms that not a single Chinese laborer shall set his foot upon American soil. It promises the men of America that they are not only protected in their employment here, but also against cheap labor and its every result, directly or indirectly, from our island territory.

Question of Self-Preservation.

This legislation is not directed against these persons because they come from China or from any other country. America has always been the refuge of the oppressed from every where. The torch of its liberty has shed a flood of light and life into the dreary homes of all the sons of men of all the world. But it is a political, social, economical and self-preserving proposition.

They would not only supplant American workmen and degrade American labor, but they would come to us in multiplied thousands, devoid of all racial and political homogeneity, bringing with them social vices and national habits that would surely contaminate the clear stream of Christian civilization and American institutions that must inevitably lower the standard of citizenship and eventually undermine the republic.

Dangerous as are their peculiar vices, their very virtues are still more pernicious. Intelligent in their own way, perceptive, crafty, patient, diplomatic, they are painfully industrious, brutally frugal and fanatically fatalistic; a people to be feared; as changeless and unrelenting as eternity; the immutable progeny of ages gone and civilizations passed away. They never think of what a real man needs, of what he ought to have in this world of smiles and tears, to uplift himself and glorify his race and nation; but to him the sole query is, How can I barely live in the lowest stratum of animal existence and save the excess to carry back to the crumbling home of the ancestral graveyard?

Easis of National Greatness. A country is great, not so much in the extent of its territory nor in the number of its inhabitants, but it is great, and great only, in the character of its people.

A republic must endure, if it live at all, in the intelligence and patriotism of its sons and daughters. That in intelligence and patriotism is conceived and born in the university of the American home, the grandest educational institution in the world. In that school is taught the virtue of our daughters, the valor of our sons, and round its hallowed walls cling all the vines and flowers of our country's hope and joy. Within its sacred precincts dwell the sons of liberty, every one of whom holds the scepter of a king.

I want him to look and feel like a king; I want him to know enough to be a king. And I will never consent by any act of mine, to have that home degraded, polluted and impoverished by a people in whose lexicon there is no such word as "home."

The emigrant that comes here from England, Ireland, Germany, Poland, Sweden, Norway, France, Denmark and other parts of Europe all arrive with that blessed word burning in their breasts and graven on their bones. They have sadly left friends and native soil for the priceless heritage found in a land of the free-born home that has reared the only true republic that ever existed and which is about all that makes life worth living. They came here to make their country to live and fight for the flag, and to die beneath its folds. They are loyal and patriotic citizens. They have enriched our blood, ennobled and perpetuated the stock, and built up the home. They are here to become true Americans and add lustre to the Stars and Stripes. They love their home and wife and child and friend.

Charity Begins at Home.

I believe it is better to look after the folks at home, to stand by our own people, than it is to corrode the shrines of free and dignified labor and corrupt the morals of our race in the vain attempt to Christianize a vast throng of orientals that would bring to us nothing but political demoralization and social despair. I believe the time has arrived for charity to begin at home. I believe that no one ever lost anything by building up his own family. I believe in standing by our own people.

I wish it could be. I want our laboring men to have enough to eat and wear; enough for sickness and old age. I want them to have enough to educate their children, and to lay by something for a rainy day and for their loved ones when they are gone. I would like to see them have some leisure and the means to improve it. I want them to have enough to meet the demands of modern civilization. I would like to see the wife with a new dress, wearing a smile on her face and some ribbons in her hair, and the hope of the republic guaranteed by the flags that glow in the cheeks of the little children.

The only hand that can light the lamp of progress and prosperity is the hand of toil—of intelligent and exultant labor—and I want that hand and arm upheld and protected by this law. I have always believed in rational protection. We are today more prosperous than ever before in the history of this or any other country through the wonderful resources of the soil, the genius and industry of our people, and the protection of our political policies. But the hour has come when we must protect not only industry and those employed in it, we must also protect men and citizenship as such. This is one step in that direction. I am ready for every other reasonable proposition tending to elevate, ennoble and make happy the labor of my country.

Why, Mr. Chairman, there is a place for every kind of honorable employment, and they all command my fealty and respect. But when you sum it up—when you read the life of every nation in the checked history of the world—the tollers are about the only men who do anything. Labor enters into and supports everything. Labor, which includes the farmer, is the backbone of the nation. It is the strong arm and stalwart son of America that holds up the ridgepole of our national structure, and spikes, through enduring centuries, the rafters of the home. He supports the government, he breeds our children, nourishes and rejuvenates the race, he holds aloft the flag; and I repeat again that human toil of heart and brain and hand is the only true manhood, the only real nobility of the republic—the aristocracy of democracy—and I am for anything that can give him an advantage and make him glad and prosperous. Therefore I am for this bill, to protect the wage-earner in the eminence of his high estate.

Morality Greater Than Markets.

They talk of Chinese trade. They say this act may circumscribe it. Yes; I would like to have that trade. We are getting more and more of it. It is the great trade of the future to America. I believe we will still increase it. With our new possessions as a stepping stone, I believe we will walk right into the open door of that great market, a market born in the womb of 800,000,000 people. But whatever happens, nothing can be gained by sacrificing the labor that produces the surplus we sell, by destroying the happiness and prosperity of millions of our best people at home for a commercial dream.

This country is wonderfully interested in markets today. The foreign market in a degree represents the weal or woe of our future prosperity. We now manufacture more than we can consume. We have an overplus of everything. But this government of ours has more to think of than markets. It has men and women, flesh and blood, God and morality, our home and country to think of.

I believe in men, in the genius of American manhood. We cannot long survive upon cheap and enslaving labor; we cannot hope long to endure the ravages of an Asiatic industrial onslaught.

The Nation's Real Heroes.

The real heroes of a nation are not alone in the sounding titles of ensanguined war, but they dwell in the silent grandeur of a quiet name. They live in the vine-clad cottage beneath the hill, kissed by all the suns of joy and filled by love and kindness, where all the day is work; and when the shadows fall the man but not the master by the side of her who sits and smiles and sews for him; and on his knees laugh the little children, with their arms about his neck.

Labor is the great conqueror. It enriches and builds up a nation more permanently than the proudest battles and in its ranks are the real soldiers of the earth.

Then let this bill pass. Let us act that we may go home in the consciousness of a duty well performed and be able to continue to say with a prouder boast than did that old Roman: "I thank God that I, too, am an American citizen!"

I thank God that we have protected and preserved the men who have taught "the stars to look our way and honor us."

◆ The Indiana state debt in 1895, when the present era of Republican administration began, was $7,520,615.12.
◆ The state debt, after seven years of Republican control, has been reduced to $3,887,615.12.
◆ One million dollars will be paid on the debt this year.
◆ A vote for Republican legislative candidates is a vote against the state debt.

Trouble Brewing.

Ardmore, L. T., July 7.—Grave trouble between cattlemen and Indians in the Choctaw nation is feared because of the killing during the past week of nearly 400 cattle, supposedly by the Indians. The trouble arises in the violation by the cattlemen of the law providing that non-citizens of the nation shall own no more than ten head of cattle apiece. It is asserted that the cattlemen have violated the law with impunity and aroused the hostility of the Indians.

OUR COMPLEX BRAIN

HOW NERVE MESSAGES ARE CONVEYED TO AND FROM IT.

It is a Signal Box Which Records and Transmits All Sensation—Self Control the Key to Preserving Its Equilibrium.

The science of medicine is year after year becoming more and more perfect. Its diagnoses are more reliable, and its method of treatment is more rational. Although the brain is the chief part of the animal man, yet there are many things about the brain which scientists have not yet fathomed.

But great strides have been made in that knowledge which has only within recent years been discovered and which reveals to us what the cranium really contains. Shielving what has gone before and what has been taught as medical law, the following interesting data on how the brain works are now what is accepted at the present time as the correct theory:

The cerebrum—front and top—is the chief part of the brain and the immediate source of all our mental action. The gray matter of the outer surface is made up of layers of nerve cells. These are the thinking centers. Experiments have clearly demonstrated that each convolution has a special function, and if destroyed it cannot be replaced.

It has also been found that the left side of the brain is more active than the right.

How has that been found out? Well, if an epileptic commences a fit by twitching the right thumb or hand one would find its cause in its nerve center on the left side of the brain. It is only within the past few years that medical men are now able to make a map of the surface of the brain according to the various functions performed.

All impressions received from the outer world, whether through the medium of sight, smell, hearing, taste or touch, are carried direct to the surface of the brain and recorded in the brain cells of their respective areas, while all movements are the result of impulses from the cells in the different motor areas.

Now, there are five large sensory areas in the make up of the brain. First, sight, which is the largest, at the back of the brain. Smell, taste and hearing have their positions at the side of the head in the temporal (temple) region and inner surface. Touch has its domicile at the top of the brain, while the large motor (giving motion) area takes up the bulk of the middle brain.

These are so splendidly arranged by nature that the motor cells of the lips are in front, then those of the hand, arm and so on to the foot. To give you an example how the sensory and motor nerves work: If you touched anything hot or sharp, the impression would be conveyed to the sensory area along the nerves connected with it. The sensory cell which received the message would immediately communicate with the motor cells to pull your hand away.

Why is it easier to remember an object than, say, a mathematical formula or a poem? The reason of this is that whereas the former has impressions stamped on several brain centers, such as sight, touch, smell, taste and the rest, the latter are stamped on centers which are not nearly so retentive as the former.

In repeating poetry, for instance, it is the sound of the last line which suggests the next line, but an object presents itself to the brain centers concerned immediately. You know an apple or an orange when you see it because you are aided in distinguishing it by a set of centers which are not only more numerous, but quicker in perception. Though poetry is revived in the sight and sound centers, it is not so well fixed there as in the other case, because it calls up fewer centers.

An apple, for instance, is stamped twice in the optic center, once as a green fruit and once as the printed word. There is an optic word center and a pictorial or photographic center. The poem is only stamped in the former, as of course it is not an object which can be pictorially represented.

The brain is nothing less than a big album of photographs and other sensory impressions. The prefrontal region may be compared to a registry office where certain records are kept. In the brain that particular part is the starting place for the memory. If we wish to recall a subject, the stimulus must pass to the prefrontal or registry office of the brain, whence the stimulus is sent to the brain cells containing the sensations to be recalled. It is like a signal box on a railway.

Now, unless your blood be in good order the active life of the brain will be affected. Blood is the nourishing agent, and if it be of a poor kind the work it does in the way of nourishment will be of a worthless character practically. Poor blood is an enemy of the brain, but happily it is not so disastrous a foe as worry. In that you have the real enemy of the brain. Worry disorganizes the machinery of the brain and mind and is little inferior to shock, which usually paralyzes both.

Worry causes irregular nerve action and if it be continuous it produces a confusion of ideas. This depresses the cells of the brain, and the usual result is if there is no abatement in the worry complete failure of the brain's action and consequent mental disturbance. Self control is the key to preserving the equilibrium of the brain and to maintaining its natural healthy state.—Pearson's Weekly.

At the opening of every presidential campaign there is always a big demand for collections of campaign badges, state and national, used in the campaign of the past.
